Jon, Executive Headteacher:

"I am Jon, and Art has been a huge part of my life, all through school days and beyond; I studied A Level Art, and even considered a job in Graphic Design before training to teach! . That's why this role is so important to me; I want a flourishing department to nurture those who have already started to learn and enjoy Art, whilst also giving great opportunities to those who have not yet had that privilege. Seeing students flourish and develop as artists is one of the best highlights of my year!"

Carly, Head of Art:

I'm Carly, Head of Art and I have the absolute pleasure of leading this fantastic department at Stanway School. It truly is a privilege to work alongside such talented students and a wonderfully supportive team.

I'm incredibly proud of the consistently high achievements of our students, with our GCSE results regularly sitting above the national average. This success is a testament to their hard work, their passion for art, and the varied and engaging programme of work we've put together for them. From the fundamentals of drawing and painting to the exciting possibilities of ceramics – we're so lucky to have our own kiln! – our students embrace every opportunity to explore their creativity.

None of this would be possible without our amazing Art Technician, whose support is invaluable. We also cherish the excellent working relationships we have built with our students; their enthusiasm and talent make every day rewarding.

Working at Stanway is incredibly fulfilling. The Art Department is well-regarded and receives fantastic support from the Senior Leadership Team, which truly underscores the value placed on art within the school. One of the best things about being here is the incredibly supportive team – both within the Art Department and across the wider school. It really is a fantastic place to work, and I feel so lucky to be a part of it
