

Are you ambitious and passionate about children achieving and succeeding? Can you provide a happy, caring and stimulating environment where children and adults feel safe and valued, and are actively encouraged and supported to achieve the very best they can?

What we offer?

Penn Fields School is a specialist setting in Wolverhampton providing education to young people from ages 5 to 19, all of whom have a variety of SEND complexities. The post holder will be joining our vibrant team as we move forward with our mission to provide excellence in nurturing, developing and shaping young lives. You should be caring, trustworthy and an excellent role model for our learners, with clear motivation to work in a school that seeks to be the best that it can be, amongst staff, learners, parents and governors who are all dedicated to learning and continual improvement.

What you offer?

The ideal candidate will ensure a safe and secure environment for our learners. We are looking for someone who has excellent written and communication skills, and will take responsibility for the learner's welfare, safety and supervision.

- Is a highly effective team player (ideally with experience of working with SEN children)
- Enjoys supporting children and strives for excellence and enjoyment
- Actively supports teaching staff to raise standards
- Believes that every child should be given the opportunity to reach their true potential
- Is committed to the safety and wellbeing of all learners
- Has excellent interpersonal, organisation, communication and time management skills
- Will adhere to and support whole school policies and practices

Penn Fields School is committed to safeguarding and promoting the welfare of children and expects all staff to share this commitment. The post is subject to Enhanced Disclosure and Barring Service check.

The Co-headteachers encourage candidates to visit Penn Fields School. School visits can be arranged via email to recruitment@pennfields.com
