

Lancaster Girls' Grammar School are looking for a part-time Teacher of Psychology who can bring the subject to life in the classroom. Psychology is a popular subject within our Sixth Form, so if you enjoy helping students make sense of how people think, feel and behave, and can turn complex ideas into engaging, thought-provoking lessons, then we would love to hear from you. You'll be joining a supportive team, working with students who are curious and keen to learn, and making a real difference in how they see the world around them.

This is an exciting opportunity for a committed candidate with:

- High expectations of what can be achieved.
- A clear vision of what makes a successful Teacher of Psychology
- Experience working as a Teacher of Psychology in a secondary school or further education setting.
- A commitment to improving outcomes for all students.
- The ability to work in an organised and methodical way.
- The ability to work independently to complete tasks efficiently.

We are looking for candidates who will:

- Complement our team with their enthusiastic and positive attitude.
- Be able to prioritise workload effectively.
- Be innovative and use initiative.
- Have drive and enthusiasm, with a desire to explore, develop and evaluate new ideas.
- Have a sense of humour, caring nature and build strong relationships with everyone.
- Thrive in a busy school environment.

Lancaster Girls' Grammar School is a forward looking, selective state school with academy status and an outstanding record of promoting academic excellence. Our curriculum is broad and we provide a wide range of enrichment and wellbeing opportunities, and we are proud of our inclusive community. In our Sixth Form we have approximately 145 students per year group, with around 30% joining us at the start of Year 12 from other high schools, both within the Lancaster district and further afield. A good number of our students choose to study Psychology at university and students also benefit from links with Lancaster University's Psychology Department.

The postholder will primarily fulfil the role of a classroom teacher, and other responsibilities at a similar level. Full details of the Person Specification and Job Description for the role are provided in our Role Profile.

This is a part-time (0.46 FTE), permanent role: details of the contractual terms and salary are included in the Role Profile. LGGS also offers a competitive benefits package which is detailed in our Recruitment Information Pack.
