ST ALBANS
SCHOOL

A WELCOME FROM THE HEADMASTER

I am delighted that you are considering applying to join the teaching staff at St Albans School.

Founded in 948 AD, St Albans School is one of the oldest schools in the country, with a rich heritage of academic excellence and innovation. While proud of our long history, we are a forward-looking school that prepares young people to thrive in a rapidly changing world.

Our pupils are intellectually curious, enthusiastic, and ambitious and we aim to foster in them not only academic success but also a lifelong love of learning. At the heart of our approach is the belief that passionate, knowledgeable teaching inspires pupils to explore subjects in depth, think independently, and achieve their best.

Beyond the classroom, life at St Albans School is vibrant and full of opportunity. We offer a wide-ranging and inclusive co-curricular programme, with activities spanning music, sport, drama, debating, CCF, outdoor education, academic societies, and much more. This breadth is central to the all-round education we provide, helping pupils develop confidence, resilience, and a strong sense of community.

Our pastoral care is a cornerstone of school life. We want every pupil to feel known, supported and encouraged to be themselves. We work hard to create a positive, inclusive environment where young people feel safe to take risks, learn from setbacks, and grow into thoughtful, compassionate individuals.

We also recognise that great schools depend on great staff. We are committed to supporting the professional growth and wellbeing of our colleagues. Whether through our robust programme of professional development, opportunities for career progression, or our supportive and collegial atmosphere, we aim to ensure that our staff feel valued and thrive as part of the St Albans School community.

If you are excited by the idea of joining a school that combines high academic standards with a deep commitment to developing the whole person, then I warmly encourage you to apply.

We look forward to welcoming you to St Albans School.

Joe Silvester
Headmaster

CULTURE OF THE SCHOOL

St Albans School is a community rooted in over a thousand years of tradition, yet forward-looking in its ambition. Located in the heart of a historic city, we are very much of the community we serve, not apart from it. Guided by our motto, Non Nobis Nati - “Born Not For Ourselves” - and our School Values, we encourage pupils to look beyond themselves and contribute positively to the wider world.

Pupils and staff experience a welcoming, friendly and cohesive atmosphere where newcomers quickly feel part of the community; we not only welcome diversity but actively embrace it.

Classrooms are safe and supportive spaces that foster curiosity, risk-taking and intellectual challenge. Pedagogy is rooted in research, with the School among the first nationally to be awarded the coveted Chartered College of Teaching Research Mark Plus status. Teachers are responsive to the needs of each individual and nurture both academic potential and personal growth, equipping pupils with the skills and confidence they need for life beyond the school.

Pastoral care is a defining strength of the School. All staff are trained in safeguarding and contribute to pupil wellbeing. Our pastoral care builds confidence and resilience, supported by tutors, Heads of Section, Sixth Form prefects and a large safeguarding team. Additional provision is made by our School Nurses, Mental Health Support Mentors, and Counsellor, ensuring that every pupil is well known, supported and encouraged to thrive.

The School offers a distinctive co-curricular breadth, with 200+ clubs and activities, including a wide sporting programme, vibrant performing arts, and leadership and service opportunities through CCF and DofE. These experiences enable pupils to develop essential skills such as teamwork, leadership, creativity, resilience and empathy.

We are proud of our strong commitment to the community. Pupils engage in meaningful partnerships with local schools and care settings, and support charitable causes through fundraising and service projects, helping them to understand their responsibilities within both local and global contexts.

Looking ahead, we are excited to welcome our first cohort of girls into Year 7 in September 2026, ensuring that inclusion and community remain at the heart of all that we do.

THE DEPARTMENT

This is an exciting opportunity to join our young and expanding Psychology Department.

Psychology is taught as a Science, with research methods placed firmly at the heart of the curriculum. Our students don't just study psychological theory - they experience it. From replicating classic studies to designing and conducting their own investigations, pupils are encouraged to think critically, work collaboratively and develop a deep appreciation of the subject as a dynamic and evolving field.

We are developing links with both Cambridge University and University College London, creating opportunities for students to engage directly with cutting-edge research. These partnerships are designed to inspire and stretch our most ambitious learners, and we are excited about the possibilities they offer.

The Department enjoys a dedicated teaching room alongside a bright and well-equipped office which allows for growth and facilitates small group work and mentoring. Our Psychology Society welcomes all members of the Fifth and Sixth Forms, irrespective of whether they study the subject. Through guest speakers, debates and film screenings, it offers rich opportunities for discussion and enrichment beyond the curriculum.

As part of our vibrant Science Faculty, we work closely with 20 highly qualified subject-specialist teachers and benefit from the expertise of seven experienced technicians. Faculty members have access to a shared meeting room and a well-stocked resources room, which support collaboration and innovation.

Psychology is already proving popular with Sixth Formers, with strong early uptake. Psychology complements a wide range of subject combinations - many students pair it with Biology, Chemistry or Mathematics, while others combine it with Humanities, PE or the Creative Arts. Science subjects have long been a strength of the School, and our public examination results reflect the high standards we maintain. Full details are available on the School website.

The wider Sixth Form science community benefits from regular lectures hosted by the Stephen Hawking Society, named in honour of one of our most distinguished alumni. These talks, led by high-profile external speakers, offer students valuable insight into the role of science in the world beyond school.

Psychology also benefits from a growing programme of trips and enrichment. Our central location in St Albans allows us to conduct observational and self-report studies within the local community. In the summer term, students attend workshops at the Freud Museum in London to deepen their understanding of the psychodynamic approach.

We are a warm, welcoming and forward-thinking department, and this is a wonderful opportunity for a well-qualified and enthusiastic colleague to help shape the future of Psychology at St Albans School. The Science Faculty is collegiate, energetic and ambitious, and we would be delighted to hear from candidates who share our commitment to academic excellence and inspiring young people.

At St Albans School, we place great value on professional growth and warmly encourage all colleagues to continue developing their pedagogy and skills throughout their time with us. This is supported by our teacher-focused review and development process, alongside a generous CPD budget that enables colleagues to access a wide range of opportunities.

We offer an extensive programme of internal CPD where staff can explore pedagogical theory and classroom practice together. Monthly seminars, workshops, and journal clubs provide lively forums for learning and discussion, with recent themes including literacy, oracy, growth mindset, and AI. Our Professional Studies programme offers trainees and early career teachers regular, in-depth exploration of the Teachers' Standards, providing strong support during the early stages of their careers. For colleagues new to teaching, there are also opportunities to gain QTS and a PGCE in partnership with the University of Buckingham.

We are proud to support colleagues who wish to carry out their own educational research. Staff undertaking projects benefit from the guidance of a senior leader acting as mentor, helping them to refine ideas and bring innovative approaches into the classroom.

Leadership development is another key focus. Internal promotion and professional development opportunities are advertised to all staff, and we also purchase places at a variety of educational conferences, encouraging colleagues to present to the wider educational community. Current and aspiring middle leaders are invited to take part in the Forum for Leadership, where staff come together to share experiences, reflect on challenges, and develop effective approaches to leading teams.

Our vibrant academic community offers further opportunities for enrichment. The School runs several academic societies and a Sixth Form lecture series delivered by eminent speakers, all of which staff are warmly invited to attend. Colleagues are equally encouraged to share their own passions and expertise with both the staff body and pupils, contributing to the intellectual life of the School.

Whether you are at the start of your teaching journey or looking for your next challenge, you will find at St Albans School a supportive community and many opportunities to grow as a subject specialist, researcher, and educational leader.

The School will take all reasonable steps within its power to ensure that members of the school community are treated fairly and have the opportunity to participate in achieving their full potential, with additional support provided where appropriate.

All members of the community are responsible for supporting an inclusive environment and there is a designated EDI lead as well as a Governance Committee. Regular training on EDI is provided for staff to ensure they fully understand, and can facilitate and support, the School's ethos and aims for EDI.

Our pupils are taught across the curriculum and co-curriculum to respect themselves and others in a tolerant, understanding and multi-cultural community. The academic curriculum is regularly reviewed to ensure it is reflective of the cultures and backgrounds of our pupils. We have a programme of diversity events and a range of societies and forums to provide support, share experiences and enable pupil voice.
